Burke tapped Attorney Forrest on the shoulder and redehed over for a whisper as to what he was to expect. Kunze teamed forward also, but the lawyer waved them both back positively and held himself in readiness for action. It was quite plain that Forrest did not know what the verdict was to be.

It was some records before Kunze, who sat at the other end of the dock, realized his fate. When he did he filled up like a whipped child, and at once commanded the sympathy of the large accomblage, including court, jury and lawyers. He could not long restrain the sobs that rolled up from his bleeding heart, and quickly gave vent to his grief in cries and complaints. Kunze has been the happy-go-lucky, playful occument of the dock all through the trial. By his

As soon as the jury had been polled Mr. Forrest, on behalf of the four convicted prisoners, made a motion for a new trial; which was set for hearing Jan, 13.

When the verdict was about to be announced the five prisoners, sitting in a row behind their lawyers, nerved themselves for the ordeal. It was plain to a doubt expected the death sentence, but, close observer that none of them had the slightest idea of what was coming. They were hopeful that a disagreement had been reached, but the expressions on the faces of the jurymen, and the general temper of the large audience convinced them that a verdict of some sort was looked for. Beggs took his seat on the extreme national movement.

If the Government had nothing to be ashamed of in its connection with the Times, Mr. Parnell added, doubtless it would gradify curiosity by making known the truth about that matter. The country wanted to know how far the Government her gradify and the country wanted to know how far the Government her agreements. try wanted to know how far the Government had gone, in a course so men and so thoroughly contrary to the English spirit as to attack men from ambush and by the use of such disreputable instruments. He knew the letters were forgerles, but he would rainer have used than have accepted the 'rindication the Government offered him. The Parnell Commission, instead of trying the personal indictment, had tried the Irish party.

A London dispatch says Mr. Parnell was met by a great crowd on his arrival at Nottingham, and was prected with mingled grooms and cheers. He addressed a large meeting in reply to the speech recently made by Lord Salisbury. Mr. Parnell declared that there never had been a movement of such magnitude to the country which was accompanied to Kean, the banker, went to the office of State's Attorney Longenecker smiling like a man who had conscientiously done his duty. Tie Western States Passenger Association to be Dissolved.—

SChicago dispatch: The managers of the lines in the Western States Passenger Association at a meeting have voted to dissolve the organization Jan. 1. It seems that the Wisconsin Central is mainly responsible for this. It has never compiled with that article of the agreement which provides that every membershall file with the chalman copies of its special contracts for the invention of its muit which provides that every member shall file with the chairman copies of its special contracts for the inspection of the other members. Its refusal to do this placed all the roads at a disadvantage, and the Burlington & Northern and the Minneapolis & St. Louis finally got tired of it and gave notice that they would withdraw from the association Jan. 1. Last week a committee was appointed to see what could be done toward settling the difficulties and keeping the association intact. At yosterday's meeting the committee reported, recommending a reorganization of the association. The proposition was voted down. The wisconsin Central then announced that it was willing to continue the association and comply with the terms of the agreement, provided any member be allowed to withdraw on giving sixty days' notice, and provided, further, that the Wisconsin Central be allowed a differential of $1.50 in the first-class fare between Chicago and St. Taul. ENTRODUCTORY.

INTRODUCTORY.

We have again come to the quarterly review, this time to bid good by for awhile to the Old Testument pages as a basis of study. We take up how the You Testum at the old Testament pages as a boss of study. We take by how the Now Testament again, and are to continue its perusal in our. Sundar-school classes for a long time to come. By the decision of the International Committee, acceptable, no doubt, to us all, we are to spend the entire year, instead of six months, as formerly, upon one book,—that book the gospel of Luke. If we have used our opportunities aright in these days and weeks with Samuel, Saul, David, and Colomon, we shall be all the realier to take up the later record, and read of that blessed one toward whom all kingly and priestly, as well as prophetic, ages were turned, the desire of the ages.

LESSON TARAGRAFII.

Hebrews, first chanter, is the bost commentary, on this. You might suppose, to see one take his seat, that his work was done; but in Scripture imagory it is but just begun. When the Master wished to call the disciples for instruction and ministration he sat. So the apostle in the Holorews represents him as sitting down at the right hand of the Father as; our better spokesman to guide his church in the conquest of the world; "henceforth expecting, till his enemies be made his foot-stool."

God has chosen the church as the instrument for the glorifying of his son and the extension of his kingdom. It is "out of Zion" that his seeplor is to extend. And this makes us very clear as to our duty. We are not to withdraw from the world in a separate and select community, how then could it be said of Christ. "rule thou in the midst of thine enamies?" When Christs, said. "I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, lift that those shouldst keep them from the owli, there was a positive as well as a negative significance to the prayer, Just in proportion as the church pushes its rightonis principle into all the ways of life, may the kingdom lie said to come for this world.

STATE OF TRADE.

The Volume of Business Large in Spite of Mild Weather.

A New York dispatch says: Breatstreet's "State of Trade;" says: Special telegrams report very generally, a fair distribution of merchandise, but there are complaints of a great scarcity of cars on trunk lines with which to move corn. The mild weather has been widespread, checking the movement of winter clothing and other seasonable staples. But on the whole, the volume of business remains in sacess of that one year apo, Silver is in rather better request from India, and it is thought that it will be from Brazil: Railway gross earnings reported by 137 companies for November show a total of $36,901,061 or 12 per cent more than for the like month in 1883. For eleven months of the current year the aggregate of gross earnings it $350,760,634 or 9 per cent more than for the same period last year. Iron and steel industries are firmer and show a more pronounced tendency to advance. The production of pig-iron is about 170,019 tons cach week, an increase of 30,000 tons weekly, within six months, yet the consumption is correspondingly heavy. Rolling mills are all working full time. At the East there is an extraordinary demand for lake ore 107 next season. Har iron will soon be advanced to a cents per pound. Exports of wheat (and flour as wheat) amount to 2,471,216 bushels hat week and 1,561,619 bushels in the second week of methods of the production of 1885, and 70,255,000 bushels in 1897. A Resolution Urging the Abbilation of Child Labor. Adopted
Boston dispatch: In the Federation of labor the committee on resolutions, brought upSegain. a resolution on child labor in the following rovised form:

"Resolved, That we urge the adoption of child labor before the age of 14 years."

This was accepted and passed by the convention. The committee reported ravorably on the following rosolutions:

"The satisfied and harness makers of America desire the co-operation of all affiliated trades in their efforts to protect themselves from evils induced by competition with the product of the prisons of our land. That the continuity of the American Federation of Labor be-rocognized and dated from the year 1881 in all future documents issued. That the American Federation of Labor declares its desire that Congress shall rostore wages in the government printing office to the rate provailing provious to 1877, and indorse the offert of the Typographical union 103, Washington, to secure the same."

The report of the committee on the eight hour law was unnhimously adopted. The committee recommend that each union in the federation be requested to assess its members 10 cents per week for so many weeks as shall be necessary to secure the short hour day, to begin not later than March", 1890, and that committees shall' he appointed to confer with employers on the subject.

POLITICAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

It is significent, that a democratic plurality of 1,900 in Providence, R. L, last spring at the state election, became a republican unjority of more than 700 on the 6th, inst, at the municipal election .- Blade.

The Cronin case is finished at last. four of the suspects being convictedthree of murder and one of manslaughter. The verdier of the jury gives catisfaction to everybody—the convicted parties excepted.

Jeff Davis's coffin was wrapped in a rebel flag. This was appropriate. The grave is the only fit place for the banner of the "Lost Cause." And its grave is one without hope of resurrection. GABRIEL's trumpet even can not call the dead Confederacy into being again, -Blade, Oh, this free trade clap-trap about the "necessaries of life" and the "suffering consumers!" When did the consumers ever get the necessaries of life any cheaper than now? Let them compare their present grocery and cloththose of free trade or low tariff times. That will knock out the free trade chumps who are howling about the suffering consumer.—Det. Tribune.

The Atlanta Constitution called it a "National shame" that the flag was not placed at half-mast over the war department for Jeff Dayls, but a Democrat contemporary, the Philadel phia Times, says that the fact that Mr. Davis had long since ceased to be a citizen of the Republic, and died an alien to the country and its govern-ment, fully justified Secretary Proctor's course. It is gratifying to see a Democrat paper take a sensible view of the matter.

Senator Ingalls, Wednesday of last week, introduced a bill placing on the pension list at $8 per month all solciers of the late war over fifty years of age, who served sixty days or more, or who were disabled while in the line of duty and were honorably discharged. The age limitation is not to apply to disabled veterans, they are to receive pensions according to rating of disability. All serving over 800 days be pensioned at the rate of one cent per day of service, that is one who served 850 days would receive $8.50 per month. Women who served as nurses are to get a compensation of $5.00 per month from the date of their discharge and hereafter a pension of $25 monthly.

The Delineator.

The DELINEATOR for January 1890 has been received and it is clearly a holiday number. It gives articles on numerous subjects, as well as that of Fashions. They consist of "How to live wisely," "Candy Making at Home," "Novelties in Holiday Goods," Rambles about Holiday - Books, "Fur, Rugs and Robes," "The Well Bred Woman," and a "Christmas Story of New England." In addition to the above, there are the regular

There are, besides, various very interesting sketches, useful miscellaneous articles, and some capital poems. "Martha Washington's Watch," by Minna Irving, is the prettiest bit of verse to be found in any of the months rangazines. The fashion and household departments contains fresh attractions, which add much to the value of this widely popular periodical. We want to say a word to our farm r friends in relation to this paper Many have the mistaken idea that it is entirely devoted to the "cranky" ideas concerning the Grange. This is not true at all. While it is the official or gan of that body, it is jet a farmer paper, and every number is worth, to the ordinary farmer, more than a year subscription. Its agricultural and horticultural articles are practical, as the present Editor, Hon, A. C. Glidden is a solid, practical farmer. Send sample copy and see if we do no speak truly.

For instance let us commence on Dry Goods. People will go into a store and pay from 7c to 8c for cotton which I sell for 5c a yard.

For indigo-blue prints they are paying 8c a yard everywhere, while I sell them at Gc a yard.

For all wool Tricot they pay from 40 to 50c a yard, while they can be had at my store from only 30 to 40c a yard.

Ladies fine all wool hose are cheap at 35c a pair, my price is 25c pair, and everything in proporttion. I sell a

OVERCOATS, of whch I have over 500 on hand yet, after the big rush I had for them, I conclude to reduce by marking them down, and will sell them now as follows:

Heavy Ulsters, former price 5 dollars, go now for 4 dollars; for his same article you pay from 7 to 8 dollars elsewhere.

A good fine Chinchilla overcoat 7 dollars, which you admit are cheap at 10 dollars, former price 12 dollars. Satin lined Chinchilla for 12 dollars, former price 15 dollars. All wool kersey pants go now for 1.25 to 2 dollars a pair, former price 1.50 to 2.50. In Underwear the run from 50c up, and I am able to fit any size.

Now consider where you can save your dollars and cents, when you buy goods. A dollar saved is a dollar carned. Come where your money will go the farthest. Respectfully yours

MAY REMOVE TO CHICAGO.

A Report that the Northern Pacific's General Offices Will Leave St. Paul.
A report is in circulation in St. Paul that the Northern Pacific Railroad Company is considering the removal of its offices from St. Paul to Chicago: N. C. Thrall, assistant to President Oakes, said that the company had no intention of removing their general offices, but expected to locate their traffic manager in Chicago, although when that would be done had not be decided. In referring to the relations of the Northern Pavific and Wisconsin Central, Thrall said: "The traffic arrangement of the two roads is not as close as people think. It would be better for both roads it it were closer." The proposed movement by the Northern Pacific in placing their traffic manager in Chicago is in line with the action of the Kansas City and the Santa Fercads, which first moved that branch of their business to Chicago, and after a time followed with

FROHIBITION FOR NORTH DAKOTA. trial came little short of being a gross mis-carriage, of justice. Everybody seems to think that the death ponalty would have been all too light a sentence for men found guilty of being participants in such a brutal murder as was that of Dr. Crouln. There were not a few who advocate the propriety of the prosecution in the case not resisting the motion of a new trial, but allowing it to be granted; in the hope that the result of a second trial would be that the three men who received life sentences in the penitentiary, should be given the death penalty. The prisoners, if they secure in new trial, must be tried on the same charge of which they have been convicted. but a heavier punishment may be visited upon them if the jury before whom they are tried so decides. In the case of Kunze, on the other hand, he could only be tried for manslaughter, but he might receive a longor centence for that crime than this jur or sentence for that crime than this jury gave him. The prisoners deport themselves as men who have been relieved of an overpowering dread of something terrible to

Bashful Enters. Bashful Laters,
There is no end of wild notions cherished by some people. Men who in all other respects are coarse and yulgar almost beyond endurance will sometimes be so squeamish in one or two minor particulars that it is a constant trial of patience to live with them. An English traveler in Abyssinia, for example, draws the following picture of his sufferings at meal-time: his sufferings at meal-time:

his sufferings at meni-time:
In this country it is considered unbocoming for persons to eat in public.

as at a pienic, for instance, or in a favern. When at home, the people take their meals within a fence, so as not to be overlooked; and when on a journey, several of the attendants are made to hold up a cloth before them, with their backs turned to those who are esting.
When no servants are available, the members of the party sit around the dishes, throw a cloth over their leads, and proceed to eat as if afraid that some one was about to santch the food out of their hands.

My companions and I had frequently to submit to this custom. No scone did our escort are us scated on one side of the road, than they directed some of the People to extend their loose robes in order to screen us from passers-by, and those that performed the task were always careful to turn their faces away from us

As most of the garmonts thus opened out for our seclusion had not been washed for months, if they had ever been, the reader's imagination may be left to conceive the odor which surfor to conceive the other which sur-rounds us on these occasions. But even if they had been washed only the day-before, the smell of the rancid butter with which the intives beamear their heads would have sufficed to render any such curtain almost intolerable.

With the compliments of the season, we find on our tible a very attractive little volume which contains very many uneful items of information, besides the novelty of alarge collection of autographs of prominent men, and also humer and altyma well illustrated. A Freed lattraction is its offer of "Free Music," which offer is set forth theroin. The little book is the annual St. Jacobs Oil Calepdar for 1882-30, which is in every way as good as the bost published in this line, and is gotten out in the interest of The Great Romedy for Pain, St. Jacobs Oil, and the other valiable specifies for the cure of Remedy for Pain, St. Jacobs Oll, and the other valuable specifies for the cure of disease which The Charles A. Vooll-Err Co., Baltimore, Md., the publishers and proprietors, have placed on the market. These gipsit remedies are by reputation standards in trude. The book is to be found at druggists and dealers, for free distributiou, or, it can be had by sending a two-cent stamp to the publishers. He Loves His Home.

best the sun shines on. So unique, emplatic, and porsonal the Cape and its towns have become to those reared here that the Cape man finds nowhere else so glorious a home, so full of such sweet memories. The Cape colors him all his life—the roots and fibers of him. Ho may get beyond, but he never gets over the Cape, Make him a merchant at Manilla or Calcutta, a whafer, at the North Pole, amate in Australian waters, a millionaire on Fifth avenue, a farmer in Minneseta, and the Cape sticks to him still. He will feel in odd hours, to his life's—end, the creek tide in which he shi the seal marsh in haying time, the cold splash of the sea spray at the harbor's mouth, the spring of the best over the ber when he came home from ishing, with the windrising on shore out of the gray night clouds seaward, the blast of the wet northeaster in the September morning when, under the dripping branches, he picked up the windfall of golden and frimson apples, the big-flaked snow of the December night when he beaued his first sweetheart bome from singing school; and he will see, in dreams, perhaps, the trailing arbutus among the gray mosses on the thin edge of a spring snow bank, the bubbling spring at the hill-foot near tide water, the fat, crimson roses under his mother's windows, with a clump of Aaron's rod or line for beneiground; the yellow dawn of an October morning across his misty moors, and the fog of the chill pond among the pine strees, and heard of and the grown man knows so well.—New England Magazine.

Something for the New Year.
The world reinvined success of Hostetter Stomach Bitters; and their continued popularit for ever a third of a country as a stomachie, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that senvicly more wenderful than the welcome that greefs the annual appearance of Hostotter's Almanac. This valuable nedical trackies is published by The Hostotter Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., nader, their own Jimmediale, supervision, employing 60 hands in thit department. They are running about it months in the year onching work, and the issue of same for 1890 will not be less than ton millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Nowweglan, Swedish, Holland, Albemian, and Spänish languages. Refer to a copy of fe for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and munerons testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostotter's Stomach Hitters, antusenent, varied internation, astronomical calculations and chronological items, etc., which can be depended on for our centees. ABOUT two years ago a severe frost burst the bark of an orange tree at Auburn, Cal., all around near the ground, and it subsequently fell off, heaving a space of from eight to twelve inches on the rewithout any bark. Still the upper part of the tree lived and is alive and thrifty to-day, bearing fruit. The fact of a tree living after being completely girdled is probably unprecedented.
